Revised 9/13/2022

Due to property tax levy ballot questions in the upcoming election, it is now possible for additional mill rates to be applied to a taxing district based on the outcome of bonds submitted to voters for approval at general elections. While the possible effect of the bond approvals is known, the outcome of the voting process is not, until the general election is held. For this reason, this tool assumes the maximum possible mill rate that may occur until such time as the general elections are held and the final mill rates are known.
