

ORGANIZATION BUDGETS

Santa Fe County has seven key areas of focus with which all of its services and programs coincide. These are as follows: developing and improving infrastructure, going “green” and integrating “green” initiatives into the County’s culture, enhancing the community or improving the quality of life through all areas of service delivery, improving government transparency, creating efficiencies and reducing the cost of operating County government, creating a professional and motivated workforce through employee development and managing growth to ensure long-term sustainability of resources.

In this section, accomplishments, objectives and goals are outlined and the area or areas of focus that apply to each are shown. The following is the key to the icons used in this section for the seven key areas of focus.
