I EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This 2016-2019 Strategic Plan is an update to the 2014-2017 plan. Developed over five months, the Plan was formulated in response to newly identified initiatives as well as to show the program's successes during the 2014-2016 time period. Program successes include:

- Alcohol involved crashes decreased 19% during times that the Cab Ride Home Program service was available to the public compared to the time the service was not offered.
- Youth Risk Resiliency survey found that self-reported binge drinking amongst high school students decreased from 27.1 percent in 2011 to 19.3 percent in 2013.
- In 2015, the Right Turns program was implement in the DWI Compliance Monitoring program and is currently being evaluated to determine its impact on DWI recidivism.
- Five DWI public awareness campaigns were launched by the DWI program.
- In 2015, 92 percent of those convicted of a DWI in Santa Fe County were screened for substance abuse treatment.
- In 2015, 80 percent of DWI offenders referred to treatment completed the treatment program.

Over the next three years, six strategic goals are identified as critical to the organization's mission. Within each strategic goal a set of tasks are also identified as necessary for the successful completion of the corresponding strategic goal. The six strategic goals are:

Goal 1: Increase the capacity of law enforcement and prosecuting attorneys in Santa Fe County to prevent, apprehend and prosecute DWI offenses.

Goal 2. Reduce DWI recidivism through evidence-based sanctions and increased offender compliance.

Goal 3. Increase the risk of arrest for DWI and driving while license is revoked.

Goal 4: Use evidence-based strategies to: (1) reduce underage drinking and drug use, and (2) diminish the early initiation of alcohol and drug use.

Goal 5: Collaborate with the Santa Fe County Health Policy Planning Commission (HPPC) and other community partners to reduce DWIs and alcohol abuse among adults.

Goal 6: Evaluate the effectiveness of the DWI Program.

II INTRODUCTION

The mission of the Santa Fe County DWI Program and DWI Planning Council is to increase the safety and general health of the residents of and visitors to Santa Fe County by developing and implementing programs to reduce fatalities, injuries and automobile crashes due to alcohol and/or drug induced impairment. In order to facilitate the accomplishment of this mission, Strategic Plans were developed in 2012 and 2014.¹ This document is the 2016 update to the 2014 plan. It provides a guide to the DWI program, the Santa Fe County government, and other institutions in implementing best practices and evidence-based solutions that support Santa Fe's citizens making healthy choices about driving, alcohol and drug use.

This update makes recommendations and identifies a set of strategic and task goals that are necessary for the DWI program to fulfill its mission.² The Plan utilizes data drawn from various sources that demonstrate the needs of the County in regards to DWI, DWI

² Santa Fe County Resolution 1997-87, "A Resolution establishing a DWI Planning Council in accordance with State Law and requiring an Annual Report", is the legal authority for the County's DWI Planning Council. Section 3 Subsections D of this resolution requires development of a county DWI plan meeting specific requirements. This plan both meets the resolution requirements, and updates the "DWI Program and DWI Planning Council Strategic Plan" developed in 2012.

prevention, substance abuse, underage drinking and law enforcement efforts.³ The Plan was developed over a five month period. A key aspect of the planning process is a set of meetings with key stakeholder groups in order to obtain their inputs as to gaps and needs of the community regarding the reduction of DWI related incidents as well as the reduction of the misuse of alcohol. These stakeholder groups were: Law enforcement (City and County), ignition Interlock providers, behavioral health treatment providers, District Attorney's office, Santa Fe Public Schools Office of Student Wellness, Santa Fe Prevention Alliance, and the DWI Planning Council.

III KEY ACHIEVEMENTS and COMMUNITY PROGRESS from 2010-2015

The achievements resulted from the collective efforts of Santa Fe County's DWI Program and community partners including Santa Fe Police Department, Santa Fe Sheriff Department, New Mexico State Police, Magistrate and Municipal Courts, First Judicial District Attorney's Office, Office of the Public Defender, New Mexico Department of Corrections Probation and Parole, Children Youth and Families Department Juvenile Probation/Parole, Santa Fe Public Schools Office of Student Wellness, City of Santa Fe, Santa Fe Prevention Alliance, Millennium Treatment Services, Santa Fe Recovery Program, Mesa Vista Wellness Center, L.A Interlock, Adobe Interlock, Alcolock New Mexico and other community stakeholders.

Key Achievements 2010-2015

- The number of alcohol involved crashes decreased by 9% from 192 crashes in 2010 to 174 in 2014.
- Fatalities decreased from 7 in 2014, to 4 in 2015, to 5 as of August, 2016.
- Alcohol involved crashes decreased 19% during times that the Cab Ride Home Program service was available to the public compared to the time the service was not offered.

³ Data for the plan was gathered from: (1) 2011 and 2013 New Mexico Youth Risk and Resiliency Survey (High School and Middle School reports), (2) 2012 New Mexico Substance Abuse Epidemiology Profile developed by the New Mexico Department of Health, (3) Santa Fe County in 2013: A Community Health Profile, (4) 2011 New Mexico Substance Abuse Epidemiological Profile for Santa Fe County, (5) 2010 Census Data, (6) New Mexico Department of Transportation, TSD, (7) Santa Fe County Community Survey.

- The High School Youth Risk Resiliency survey found that self-reported binge drinking decreased from 27.1 percent in 2011 to 19.3 percent in 2013.
- Through enforcement efforts 3,972 vehicles were seized in both the City and County since mid-2009. Of these 748 were forfeited as a result of judicial proceedings.
- The Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment (SBIRT) Pilot Program was launched and is being evaluated to measure impact on DWI recidivism and make recommendations for future implementation.
- Five DWI public awareness campaigns were initiated. A community survey conducted by the DWI program identified increases in public awareness of the consequences of a DWI arrest, vehicle forfeiture, and the CAB RIDE HOME program were found. All campaigns were in both English and Spanish languages. The campaigns utilized marketing and advertising techniques like bus wraps, bar coasters, gas pump toppers, radio spots, newspaper and other print ads, and website banner ads. The five campaigns were:
 1. TWO TOO Many, highlighting vehicle forfeiture;
 2. THINK SaFe, focusing on the Cab Ride Home verses arrest by law enforcement;
 3. At .08 We Incarcerate, a strong law enforcement message;
 4. Think Twice, emphasizing the change in Santa Fe County's vehicle forfeiture ordinance where a vehicle can be seized on the second arrest for DWI;
 5. And Kiss Your Baby Goodbye, an introduction to the new County and City ordinances allowing law enforcement to seize and forfeit vehicles used by drivers while intoxicated.
- In 2014, the DWI program implemented a random urine testing program for all offenders convicted of DWI in Magistrate Court.
- In 2015, 92 percent of those convicted of a DWI in Santa Fe County were screened for substance abuse treatment.

- In 2015, 80 percent of DWI offenders referred to treatment completed the treatment programs.
- In 2016, the DWI program started providing Compliance Monitoring and Tracking Services for Tesuque Tribal Court.
- In 2016, the DWI program secured grant funding from the New Mexico Department of Transportation to fund one additional Compliance Officer.

IV SUMMARY of GAPS and NEEDS

1. Drunk and drugged driving rates in Santa Fe County as measured by fatalities, crashes and DWI arrests remain unacceptably high. While progress has been made in the last seven years, DWI remains a significant cause of harm for Santa Fe residents. Skyrocketing rates of opioid and painkiller abuse also point to a corresponding increase in drugged driving. Lack of effective detection of drugged driving limits our understanding of the scope of this problem.
 - a) In 2014 there were 174 DWI crashes and 8 DWI crash deaths in Santa Fe County.
 - b) From 2010 to 2011, there was an 8 percent decrease in arrests, and an 11 percent increase in DWI crashes. From 2014 to 2015, there was an 8 percent decrease in arrest and a 4 percent decrease in DWI crashes. (Data gathered from the Santa Fe Prevention Alliance Dashboard.)
 - c) Sales of highly controlled prescription opioid pain relievers (OPRs) increased 131.3 percent in New Mexico between 2001 and 2010. During that same period, the state's drug overdose death rate increased 61.8 percent.
 - d) The total financial impact of Santa Fe County alcohol-involved crashes is approximately $55 million per year.
 - e) The risk of arrest and consequences of conviction are poorly understood by the most at-risk populations including youth, immigrants and substance abusers.
 - f) From January of 2010 until December of 2015, 2772 convicted DWI offenders were referred to Santa Fe County DWI Compliance program. Of these 665 or 24% were repeat offenders. In 2015, 356 vehicles were seized for DWI and 179 for driving with a revoked license as a result of a DWI—for a total of 435 vehicles seized. Of these, 126 were forfeited and auctioned.

2. Alcohol and substance abuse rates in Santa Fe County are among the highest in New Mexico and the country. This has a profound and far-reaching effect on our community. Alcohol and drug abuse are an unacceptable source of suffering for the addicted and their families, a financial drain on county resources, and a threat to public safety.
 - a) From 2010 to 2014, 422 Santa Fe County residents died as a direct result of alcohol abuse, and several hundred more died from chronic disease for which excessive alcohol consumption is a significant contributing risk factor. The alcohol-related death rate for Santa Fe County's Hispanic residents is 32% greater than Non-Hispanic Whites and is 14% percent higher than that for Hispanic New Mexicans as a whole.
 - b) Alcohol and/or drugs are known to be a significant factor in incidents of criminal activity such as burglaries, domestic violence, child abuse and neglect, and sexual violence.
 - c) In 2014 there were 1,583 reported domestic violence incidents in Santa Fe County. Of the 1,583 reported incidents, 32% involved alcohol /drug use.
 - d) Santa Fe County does not have adequate inpatient treatment resources. There is a critical need in the community for a place to take intoxicated or drugged individuals in crisis instead of jail or the hospital.
 - e) Total financial impact of alcohol abuse in the County is estimated to be $140 million per year.
3. Alcohol and drug abuse for youth 18 and under remains excessive portending a large future pool of abusing adults.
 - a) 19.3 percent of Santa Fe County high school students and 3.8 percent of middle school students report binge drinking, and 10.8 percent report having first alcoholic drink before age 11, a significant precursor to adult alcohol abuse.
 - b) 12.6 percent of high school students report drinking and driving.

- c) 31.3 percent of high school and 21.5 percent of middle school students reported smoking marijuana.
 - d) 5.8 percent of high school students report injecting heroin in the past 30 days.
 - e) Prohibiting access to alcohol is a continuing challenge since 19.7% of high school students report that they give someone money to buy it for them.
 - f) Data about youth substance use is derived from the 2013 YRRS Report that draws from self-reported surveys and may in fact under-represent the scope of the problem with youth.
4. Additional data is required to understand the problem’s scope on a local level and to strategically target areas where programs can have the most impact. There is a need to work with the New Mexico Department of Administration and Finance, the University of New Mexico, Probation and the Courts to secure more recent data on crashes, arrests, convictions and other DWI enforcement and adjudication related issues.
